

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1744.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Moscow, October 15.

Mong other Persons of Distinction who had the Honour to pay their Compliments to her Imperial Majesty, on her safe Return to this Capital, the Counts Charles and Gustavus Biron, Brothers to the late Duke of Courland, were admitted; who return'd her Imperial Majesty Thanks for her Goodness in recalling them from Siberia; and the Countess had likewise the Honour to pay his Imperial Majesty Thanks on the same Occasion. The Countess of Hesse Hombourg is relaps'd, and is more dangerously ill than ever; so that we begin to apprehend she will be in great Danger. It is certain, that the Countess of Neuhaus, and the Baron Mardefeldt, the former Plenipotentiary from the King of Prussia, have received Orders from their respective Masters, to solicit the Court to accede to the late Treaty of Union concluded at Frankfort; or, at least, the Accession of his Imperial Highness to that Treaty, in Quality of Duke of Saxe-Gotha. The Motives suggested in Support of this Application are very extraordinary; but till we are inform'd as to the Truth of them, we do not think proper to commit them to Writing; the rather, as they are at the same time very improbable.

London, October 6. Last Sunday his Majesty dispatch'd Expresses to Rome on some very extraordinary Occasion; since which it is reported, that, to shew his profound Veneration for the Church, and, at the same time, his high Esteem for the House of Austria, his Majesty has been pleas'd to remit a very considerable Sum of Money, in order to indemnify the Inhabitants of the present Country, for the Damages they have sustained by the long Stay of the Austrian Army in the Vicinity of that Capital; which is consider'd here as a very glorious Act of Liberality.

Cadix, October 13. The French Ships that are in this Port, wait only for a favourable Wind to sail; and the Captain of them take great Pains to insinuate, that they are about being employed in some Enterprize of great Importance; But it is very much doubted, whether, in reality, they do not intend to return to France; at least this is strongly suspected here. The Two Vessels lately arriv'd from Vera Cruz, have on Board very considerable Sums for the Merchants; and one of them brought 500,000 Pieces of Eight on the King's Account. This Morning a small Vessel arriv'd here, the Crew of which are not permitted to come on Shore, and the Vessel is kept at the Governor's House; from whence it is conjectured, that the Count de la Torres is not far from our Coasts, with the Plate-Fleet under his Escort; and that this Vessel is an Advice Boat.

Frankfort, October 24. At last it is certain, that the Austrian Army is on the Point of retreating, their Engineers having marked out a Camp near Viterbo; but we are not yet able to say positively, when this Retreat will be made; but there is reason to believe it must be within Two or Three Days. Several of the Austrian Generals have taken Lodgings at Rome for the Winter; and Prince Lobkowitz has publickly declared, that he intends only to cannon his Troops in the Neighbourhood of Viterbo during the hard Season, and that he proposes to invade the Kingdom of Naples early in the Spring. On the other hand it is certain, that tho' the King of the Two Sicilies is extremely indisposed at Veletri, Count Sforza is making all the necessary Preparations to attack the Austrians in their Retreat, with all the Horse, Dragoons, and Grenadiers of his Army; while the Duke of Modena is to follow with the Foot. If he actually executes this Enterprize, as there is great Probability he will, a Battle may very probably be fought To-morrow, or next Day, in our Neighbourhood, which fills us here with dreadful Apprehensions.

Turin, October 25. The Siege of Coni was rais'd after 23 Days open Trenches, in the Night, between the 21st and 22d; the Enemy, during the Siege, threw 5000 Bombs, and fir'd 10,000 Cannon Shot against the Place, without making themselves Masters of so much as a single Outwork. There never was a more dreadful Spectacle than their Camp, in which there were abundance of dead Bodies, besides a great Number of Mules and Horses dead, and dying. Their Grenadiers had, for many Days, done Duty up to their Knees in Water. The Duke of Savoy is set out for the Camp, in order to go with the King to Coni, where they are to make their publick Entry, and to be present at singing Te Deum for the happy Deliverance of the Place. All our Light Arm'd Troops are in full Pursuit of the Enemy; it is said, they have Orders to give no Quarters to the Spaniards, on Account of the Barbarities committed by them, on his Majesty's Subjects. It is reported here, that Admiral Rowley has made himself Master of Nice, and taken 1000 Spaniards who were in it, Prisoners of War; which News is said to have been brought by an Express that arriv'd this Morning from the Marquis d'Ormea. We expect, with the utmost Impatience, a certain Account of the Enemy's Retreat, and of the Loss sustained in it; which must, undoubtedly, be very great.

Munich, November 1. His Imperial Majesty left Haag Yesterday, and established his Head Quarters at Zingber, from whence he will continue his March, as this Day, to Ottingen. He leaves a Detachment of his Army before Wallerbourg, in which the Austrians have still a Garrison of 1500 Men. It was not thought proper to besiege this Place in Form, because his Imperial Majesty is desirous of marching on with all possible Diligence. He proposes to pass the Inn at Muhlthof, a small Town in the Territory of Saltzbourg, as soon as the Bridge, that was destroyed by the Enemy, when they abandon'd it, can be repair'd. The Austrians have not only carry'd off all the Provisions, but all the Horses, out of this Country, which retards the Progress of the Imperial Army very much; but, as his Imperial Majesty is in good Health, and extremely active, we make no doubt that he will inspire his Army with an Ardour capable of surmounting all Difficulties.

Berlin, November 7. We are forming here Two Regiments of Dragoons; one of which is to be commanded by Major-General Roel, and the other by Major-General Stofch. Abundance of the Austrian Prisoners have taken Service amongst our Horse. We expect daily his Majesty's Orders for raising several Regiments of Foot; and every Thing here carries a more military Aspect than ever. Our last Letters from Bohemia are of the 18th; the Armies were then very near each other; and his Majesty having exchanged the Garrison of Prague, and thrown 10,000 Men into that Place, seems determined to wait there the Attack of the Enemy, in case they are really dispos'd to give Battle; which is the less probable, since they have been thrice offer'd it already, and have as often declined it.

Frankfort, November 8. Yesterday the Prince Royal received, by a Courier, his Imperial Majesty's Orders to join the Army; and her Imperial Majesty will likewise set out for Munich, in a very few Days. According to our last Advices from Fribourg, the Breach being not only practicable, but large enough to admit 110 Men in Front, the French made a general Assault in the Night, between the 2d and 3d; but the Rain had render'd the Ground so loose, that it was impossible for them to establish themselves; and besides, there being three Retrenchments to be carried before they could enter the Place, it was found absolutely necessary to abandon the Breach the Night following, after the Loss of above 1000 Men, who were kill'd in making themselves Masters of it. The King set out the Day before for Paris; and it is now believed, that the Siege must necessarily be turned into a Bockade. This Moment his Royal Highness is set out for Munich; the Bridge over the Main is perfected, and the French Troops are expected in our Neighbourhood in less than a Week.

Dusseldorf, November 10. The Emperor is actually march'd with his Army directly to Braunau, where the Austrians have assembled theirs. His Prussian Majesty is retired under the Cannon of Prague; where, in all Probability, he will wait till such Time as the Progress of the Imperial Forces, in Austria, shall deliver him from the perplex'd Condition he is in at present. We have certain Intelligence, that 24 Battalions of French Troops are in full March for the Duchies of Juliers and Bergues. The Prince of Nassau Saarbruck, has furnished the French with a fine Regiment of German Horse, that are to enter into Pay on the same Terms with that that is called the Royal German Regiment.

Hague, November 13. The States General and Council of State assembled extraordinarily on the 11th, in order to consider of a new Augmentation; when their High Mightinesses determined to take a certain Number of Swiss Troops into their Pay. The Memorial presented by the Hanoverian Minister on the 9th, was to demand a Passage for 16,000 Hanoverian Troops, that are speedily to march from the Low Countries back to the Electorate, where they are to be joined by 10,000 Men of the Troops of the Elector of Cologne. The famous Dr. Van Swieten, of Leyden, is set out for Brussels, in order to attend her Serene Highness, the Archduchess, who is in extreme Danger.

HOME PORTS.

Newcastle, November 3. Arriv'd the Nancy, Hunter, from Hamburg; the Katherine, Stephenson, from Amsterdam; the St. Michael, Standridge, from London; also several other laden, and 56 light Coasters.

Gravesend, November 6. Pass'd by the Postillion, Starr, from Gottenburgh; and the Molly, Richards, from St. Kitts.

Arrived

At Plymouth, the Dove, Dormer, from New England.

LONDON.

They write from Dresden, that the Regency had declared to the Prussian Minister, that his Polish Majesty was determined not only to reinforce the Auxiliaries granted to her Hungarian Majesty, but also to employ the whole Strength of his Electorate, for the Preservation of the Kingdom of Bohemia.

We have a very extraordinary Piece of News from Ghent, which is, that there is a Treaty on Foot between the French King on the one Side, the King of Great Britain, the Queen of Hungary, and the States General on the other; by which the former engages not to attack the Austrian Low Countries directly or indirectly; and the other obliges themselves not to march any Troops into French Flanders.

The last Letters from Paris are dated November 6, which say, that the King was expected on the 8th, and that, to save Expences, it was determined not to send any Ambassador Extraordinary to Madrid, to demand the Infanta for the Dauphin, but to give that Character to the Bishop of Rennes for the Space of Three Weeks.

The Nancy, Brisebey, arriv'd at Portsmouth on Tuesday last, in 30 Days from Portsmouth; who parted Company 23 Days since, in the Sireight's Mouth, with Commodore Long, in his Majesty's Ship the Marlborough, and eight Sail of Men of War; being Convoy to 56 Sail of Merchant Ships, all Homeward-bound.

The Almondsbury, from Bristol for Boston; and the Pembroke Sloop, from South Carolina for Bristol, are both taken, and carried into Cape Britton.

Yesterday Morning, at Six o'Clock, died, at his House in Hackney, John Wightman, Esquire, an eminent and wealthy Brewer at Pye-Corner, West-Smithfield. He was drunk to for Sheriff of London, in the Year 1738, but refused to serve the Office, on Account of his being a Defender; and against whom the City had brought an Action for such Refusal, which was shortly to have been try'd.

On Tuesday died, at Mr. Hull's in Philpot-lane, Thomas Heath, Esq. of Mile-End, a young Gentleman of a considerable Estate.

Yesterday died, in King's Street, Westminster, Mrs. Eures, Wife of Mr. Eures, an eminent Grocer; a Woman of great Piety and Charity, and her Death is greatly lamented.

On Monday Night, Mr. Piercy Hill, eldest Son of Mr. H. B. Turner to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, was attack'd in Moorfields by three Footpads, who robb'd him of three Guineas, and some Silver, and shot him thro' the Arm, and then made off.

AS the Principle of Mrs. STEVENSON'S

MEDICINE for the GRAVEL and STONE is well known to be the Alicant Soap and the calcin'd Soap, which promote the Dissolution thereof, and for the Dissolution of which, the Parliament of Great Britain granted, and as this is esteem'd the best Medicine ever yet published in the above Cases, no withstanding the enormous Price, it is presumed, that if the internal Effence, which is Salt, to be dissolved into a Liquid, it would be more efficacious than the crude Medicine: Now, that there is such a Distinction to be had, of which, from ten to thirty Drops is a pleasant and safe Dose; those who are afflicted with the Gravel and Stone may be convinc'd, by taking them in a Glass of Rhenish Wine; and are so innocent, that an Infant in the Arms may take 'em.

Note, They are to be had for one Shilling and Sixpence small Vial, at the Golden Dove, under the Statuary, in Serjeants Inn in Fleetstreet; where an Abstract of its Virtues may be had gratis.
